Expect To Fill Empty Retail Space Quickly

by GLORIA DAVIS

At present there is a lot of "empty glass" in Antioch's retail community, with somewhere between 25 and 30 empty stores in town.

Some of these storefronts are in old buildings, some in new buildings, some in buildings under construction and a few in buildings still in the planning stage.

There are three open retail spaces in the new building on the southwest side of the intersection of Rte. 83 and North Ave. There is an empty store in back of the stores on Main St. in the Park Ave. Plaza.

One more vacant store front can be found in the mall behind the Great American Savings and Loan and two big ones in Orchard (or Antioch) Plaza, formerly Foremost Liquors and Antioch Drugs.

The new mini-mall anchored by the Antioch Medical Center on Lake St. has two empty spaces and diagonally across the street, three out of the 14 available spaces in the Lake St. Plaza (under construction with completion expected at the end of May) have been leased leaving 11 to go.

And now the controversy about the mall on Rte. 83 across from the high school, at the corner of Rte. 173 has been resolved.

According to Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz, the developers have given up obtaining rezoning for the additional land originally proposed and since they are going with land that is already zoned commercially, the mall, with a Walgreens as an anchor, is now in the works.

"They don't need any approval from the zoning or village boards, all they need is building permits," said Sterbenz.

The mall will contain a large Walgreens, and five or six smaller retail spaces. Since a sign advertising the availability of retail (Continued on Page 3)

Jaycees To Bowl For Autistic

The Antioch Jaycees will sponsor the eighth annual "Bowling-for-Autism" project at the Antioch Bowl, Sunday, May 3, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Autism is a developmental disability, characterized by impaired language, failure to develop appropriate social relationships, and ritualistic or compulsive behaviors. Funds raised will be used by SEDOL (Special Education Dist. of Lake County) to support programming for autistic children.

To encourage people to obtain sponsors and come out to bowl on May 3, Antioch area businesses have donated over $1,000 in prizes and gift certificates.

For the first place adult money raiser, Raymond Chevrolet has donated a microwave oven! First place child money raiser will receive a new trail-bike from SEDOL. Second place money raiser for adult and child prizes have been donated by the State Bank of Antioch (total value over $150). First place bowlers' prizes are being donated by the Antioch Bowl—bowling balls and bags. Every bowler is eligible to receive one of the many door prizes to be given away throughout the event.

Sponsor sign-up sheets are available at local banking facilities and major businesses. Bowlers are asked to encourage friends to donate just a few cents for each pin they down during the three-game series.

Sign-up sheets feature this year's poster child, and will help sponsors understand this truly worthwhile cause.

For more information call Mike Kirkpatrick at (312) 395-5475.

St. Peter Women Set Fashion Show

St. Peter Council of Catholic Women will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 5 in the church in Antioch.

This May meeting will be started with the crowning of the Blessed Virgin, followed by Benediction.

A short business meeting and election of officers will follow in the church hall. There will be a baby shower for the new moms in the St. Theresa Staffers program.

All new and used clean baby articles as well as cash donations will be most welcome.

The evening's program will include a fashion show, featuring the new summer styles from Gibbs and Jennson's Carousel.

Club members modeling the attire will be: Colleen Bivona, Megan Bivona, Peg Jansta, Judy Kozenski, Alicia Levigne, Genevieve Mularski, Doris Veith and Linda Zeman. It will be commented by Patty Brooke.

Refreshments will be served by hostesses Margaret Belongia, Billie Ried, Pearl Raach, Betty Sheehan and Harriet Stavinoga.

19-Year-Old Smashed Into A Dumpster

A 19-year-old Lake Villa man, who was seriously hurt in a freak accident early Saturday morning in the parking lot at Huck's Back Room in back of the Antioch Bowling Lanes, is in good condition at Victory Memorial Hospital, recovering from head injuries.

Guy Fenton was injured when he was smashed into a dumpster as he hung on the door of a car driven by Susan Tiderman, 21, Antioch.

John Bennett, 22, and John Simon, 20, also of Lake Villa, told police that they had asked Tiderman for a ride and thought she said to get in.

Tiderman said she had put the car into reverse when Fenton opened the door on the driver's side and the others tried to jump in the car.

Fenton was cited for driving while intoxicated and driving on a revoked drivers' license.

Retail Space

space is still standing on the property next to Hardees, all of the smaller retail spaces are obviously unrented.

This is just part of the "open space," commercial space problem that is confronting Antioch, its Chamber of Commerce and development commission since the implementation of the revamping of part of the existing shopping area via the creation of a TIF Dist. may also mean more empty retail space.

According to Antioch's Community Redevelopment Commissioner Don Davis, "Although the open retail space is more than usual, this is really a sort of cycle. There have been many serious inquiries into the leasing of some of these spaces and I expect some of them to be occupied in the near future, as soon as this fall.

He also feels that the increase in retail space is in proportion to the expected increase in the population of the areas that use Antioch's retailers, saying that some of the stores may be preceding the customers by a little bit.

Davis' office is busing doing a mass mailing to nationwide retailers and others touting the pros of doing business in Antioch and Lorraine Ferguson, of Lorrall Services, Inc., is also busy trying to enlist the owners into allowing her to attempt to lease the stores.

Davis adds that the fact that much of this retail space's size is not indigenous to easy leasing (too big or too small) has slowed the leasing push to some degree.

Golfers To Meet

The Tuesday morning Antioch State Bank Woman's Golf League meeting, will be held May 5 at 10:30 a.m. at Spring Valley Country Club.

New Lake St. Plaza Mini-Mall Means 11 More

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Heard Ken Smouse's debut as resident theater director at the Waukegan Park Dist.'s Jack Benny Center For the Arts with his first production, "Don Juan In Hell," is one of note as "Don Juan," is done in the top-notch form we have come to expect of Ken (who acts and directs in this one) over the years of his local theatrical triumphs.

Speaking of triumphs, wasn't Emmons Grade School's fashion show just great! Saw at least three outfits I coveted but I'm still checking the egg money to see if I can afford them.

Have you seen the progress being made at that new mini-mall being built on the site of the old Jewel Store on Lake St. ? Just trying to see what kind of stores will be going into it!

I see where Grass Lake School is back with another controversy as parents try to find a solution to the ever-tightening school budgets without cutting educational benefits to the students.

Hear tell that the school board meeting coming up on May 12 is due to be a doozie!

Finally Antioch is getting a store with a wide choice of linens. I hear that Carol and Robert Mattson are opening a linen outlet (whoopies discounts!) on North Ave., just east of the VFW Hall.

My spies also say that they are hoping to add a line of name brand bedspreads to the inventory soon after opening.

Wonder who is going to be crowned king and queen of Antioch's prom this year! If you look at the picture of the prom court in this issue of the Reporter you'll see how difficult the choice will be, they're all such cute kids, nice and smart too I hear!

Letter To The Editor:

Upset Parents

Editor:

There was a huge turnout to the April Grass Lake School Board meeting. This influx of people at a monthly board meeting was due to concern over staff and program cuts because of the projected deficit spending in the district.

Many people were confused and angry about the cuts, indicating there should have been prior information concerning the school's financial problems.

Mrs. Marie Brausam was the spokesperson for approximately 70 concerned parents and taxpayers. She presented the board with 22 questions from the people; various options to help maintain a couple of programs; and numerous facts of interest to all.

Mr. Bartlett was on the agenda as the spokesperson for the staff. He spoke of the need for everyone to pull together in order to be successful in obtaining the additional needed funding for Grass Lake School.

He asked for a show of hands for support at the polls. This show of hands was called for too soon, but it should be called for again after many questions have been answered.

There was time for only a few questions and comments from the people, as a time limit was set on audience participation. The length of the time limit seemed to be unreasonable in relation to the number of people present.

Undercurrents of the meeting seemed to indicate dissatisfaction in regard to citizen, parent and superintendent, and board communication.

The board did not answer any of the presented list of questions at that time. Many of the questions had been asked in the past, but had gone unanswered.

It was stated that the questions would be answered at the next regular board meeting. Also a decision will be made as to what financial solution will go to ballot.

Everyone wants what is best for Grass Lake School. Many would like to see an improvement of communication between the community, superintendent and the board.

People are looking to the board and superintendent for guidance in order to feel comfortable casting a favorable vote at the polls in November.

Success at the polls seems to depend largely on the re-establishing of better communication by fostering the following. People have a right to ask reasonable questions, and also have the right to receive answers to their questions.

The efforts put forth by all in attendance will not be in vain if the board and superintendent address all issues and concerns. Surely neither the board or superintendent are not against better communications.

The large number of people in attendance at the April meeting should be viewed as a positive testimonial for our school. People care enough to come to meetings to either ask questions, voice opinions, or listen to the issues at hand.

The same members of the community and more are urged to attend the next meeting of the school board at Grass Lake School at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 12.

Chicago Gets Its Due

Bit by bit, Chicago politicians are getting just due from suburbanites who they see as feasting on the city's employment and service advantages without paying their share of the tax burden.

Chicago's new five-cent-a-gallon tax on jet fuel is an example of what we're talking about. Beginning Friday, May 1, United Airlines and American Airlines will require an extra $9 for tickets on flights originating in Chicago. Windy City bigwigs are licking their chops over the jet fuel tax. A United spokesman said the impact will be $24 million. American, with half United's boardings, will have a substantial impact. Airlines and American Airlines will require to pass on the tax in the form of a surcharge.

The Illinois Supreme Court ruled that the tax is legal.

From the perspective of Chicago leaders, the jet fuel tax is an ideal tax because the burden falls on only a small percentage of the populace, the bulk of the O'Hare and Midway Airport boardings being from suburban residents and out-of-towners.

The city's tax structure results in parking fees amounting to robbery without a gun, again a dig at non-residents. The head tax reflects the mentality of trying to tap non-resident revenue sources.

Instead of grumbling, though, perhaps we suburbanites should ante up tribute to the city in its various forms with the comforting thought that at least we don't have to spend all our lives in Chicago.

Complicating Flood Woes

Leave it to F.T. "Mike" Graham, the maverick political leader and social tinkerer, to come up with a novel way of dealing with flooding problems. The Libertyville Twp. supervisor and Dist. 5 County Board representative has township attorney Dennis Ryan looking into the legality of demolishing homes in flood plain areas.

The intriguing thing about Graham's ideas is that they tend to work out on paper. He has a knack of marshaling the numbers and facts to support his theories, many of which critics characterize as ranging from crackpot to off-the-wall.

In isolated spots, the Graham flooding plan would work and has been proved to work, but in the case of North Libertyville Estates, the home razing plan to remove people from flood threat permanently, amounts to community relocations that accompanied the federal government's dam building heydays of the 1930's. It would be a multi-million dollar project.

If Graham had a pipeline into Ft. Knox, he might be able to accomplish wonders. Basically, Graham's approach to solving environmental and development problems is to buy land, taking controversial acreage out of contention and use it for agricultural purposes. Where we go acropper with the Graham approach is the source of money. He says it's in the taxpayers best interests to dig down. We're not so sure. Taking away the developers' raw material is sort of like removing all the cars from the highway to solve the accident and speeding problem, or throwing everyone who breaks the law into jail.

Creating new problems to solve existing headaches, doesn't seem to be the answer. Razing flood threatened homes would create more problems than it solves.

Householder Fumes While Basement Cracks Spread

by BILL SCHROEDER

Somewhere out there, we've got a hunch, there are dozens of homeowners who have a bone to pick with the inspection and enforcement apparatus for Lake County building and zoning regulations. There are horror stories by the score.

Josana Berdzinski of Antioch has squared off against builder-developer, Tom Santino, over cracks in the basement of her year-old home in Harbor Ridge. Ms. Berdzinski, a fifth grade teacher at Waukegan's Washington School, feels she is getting the run-around from County Building Officer, Robert Streicher, and is getting only lip service from other agencies.

"What has happened to the concept of accountability?" Berdzinski asks. "I'm accountable for everything that happens in my classroom, but Tom Santino and Bob Streicher don't seem to be accountable to anyone." is the way the new homeowner put it. While she has been making phone calls, writing letters, getting legal advice and seeking a solution to her problem, the number of cracks in her basement has grown from five to 23. Ultimately, she fears, the basement walls will cave in. Improper construction and insufficient inspection are the cause, she insists.

Berdzinski says she is determined to follow her case through to an acceptable solution.

"The problem is that everyone in the system expects dissatisfied homeowners to get tired sooner or later and drop out. Well, that isn't going to happen with me."

STEPPING DOWN—Joseph Sikes, dean of Lake County municipal lawyers, has resigned his post as village attorney of Lake Zurich and is going to take life easier. Sikes, 78, served Lake Zurich for 28 years. A local government specialist, he formerly served sanitary districts in Round Lake and Lake Zurich along with a number of other units of government. Sikes and his wife have a condo in Honolulu. He expects to spend more time there.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Bob's selection of a prom outfit turned out to be a family project. He had plenty of advice on what would look good. Pop suggested a white dinner jacket, expecting to be shot down for being an old fogey. "That might be cool the Humphrey Bogart look," Bob replied. So I'm not so out-of-tune after all. In the end, Bob opted for black formal wear with tails. The jury is still out, however, on the color of the tie.

Letters To The Editor

Not Necessary

Editor:

As a concerned citizen of Grayslake and Lake County, I am opposed to the proposed installation of the Waste Management incinerator and additional landfill adjacent to the ARF Corp. landfill site on Rte. 83. I am opposed to the incinerator for the following reasons:

1. The obvious health hazards that would be imposed on my family could be severe.
2. According to Robert Luedtke, chairman of the Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency (who has recommended against the proposal), Waste Management's incinerator application "precludes the possibilities of comparing several sites" and is "not necessary to meet the waste needs of the area it is intended to serve." Certainly, Lake County should have the choice of selecting a site that will best serve Lake County and have the least adverse environmental impact on its citizens. Further, Robert Luedtke states that Lake County landfills have an estimated seven to 10 years before they are filled to capacity. This means Lake County has time to consider viable alternatives and/or alternate site locations (if indeed an incinerator is deemed the best option). There is no need to implement this incinerator now.

3. This incinerator would have no positive effect for Grayslake. Our garbage is currently trucked to Southeastern Wisconsin (for what reason I do not know), so the incinerator would not minimize the landfill Grayslake produces.

4. Grayslake's water supply would also be under tremendous strain due to the large capacity of water required in the incinerators filtering process.

5. I also believe that Grayslake property values would suffer because the incinerator would lower the quality of life environmentally.

6. Finally, I think Grayslake has done enough; we already have the EDCO and ARF landfill sites in our immediate area.

Falsehood Barrage

Editor:

The Citizens Committee for Open Space did the best it could under the circumstances to get voter approval of the open space proposal in Fremont Twp., but our low key, low budget ($900) and late-started campaign was not enough to combat the well-financed opposition centered in Libertyville Twp. and their barrage of falsehoods and misrepresentations that confused voters. Environmentalists lost to special interests that would destroy our environment, but the last battle has yet to be fought and the wave of the future is on our side. Inch by inch we are gaining ground against such desecrations as the trailer park, incinerator and garbage dump that threaten our heritage. Many thanks to those who helped our cause and may they be encouraged to continue the good fight.

Critic At Large In... Lakeland

By Matthew Pollakon

Don Juan In Hell

The Friday, April 24 presentation of "Don Juan In Hell" by the Bowen Park Theatre Company resulted in an evening of deep contemplation for this reviewer.

Taken from the play "Man And Superman" by George Bernard Shaw, this presentation is given by four "readers", at lit stands upon a stage void of any scenery or costume, other than the individuals formal attire. This is definitely not a "play" in the normal sense. The very capable readers include Lou Jones in the tile role, Frank Greenwood the part of the Commander, Ken Smouse as The Devil, and the part of Dona Ana presented by Sara Cameron May (also at certain presentations by Betty Smouse). Add to the fine character of the readings, the perfectly "classical" atmosphere of Goodfellow Hall at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts, Bowen Park, Waukegan, and one has a setting that would have delighted even Mr. Shaw himself. I must impress readers with this for it is in the entirety of its surroundings that this presentation takes on the role of fine entertainment.

A brief synopsis of the presentation?...I'm not certain if a comprehensive discussion of all the ramifications of this production is within the realm of this forum, i.e. my "Critic At Large In Lakeland" column. What I mean by this, is that "Don Juan In Hell" is a very cerebral and philosophical piece. If one can find one's entertainment principles within such a device, then this will be a very enjoyable and interesting evening. If not, then my suggestion is to go with an open mind and search, with the characters, for the meaning of enjoyment. Am I being overly mystical? Perhaps, but after all, this is a very mystical evening.

"Don Juan In Hell" is being presented at Goodfellow Hall - Jack Benny Center, 39 Jack Benny Drive - Bowen Park, Waukegan. Performances are at 8:00 p.m. General admission is $7 for adults, $4 for seniors, students & military.

Board Backs Concert Assn.

In a proclamation adopted at its April 14 meeting, the Lake County Board urged support of Lake County Community Concert Assn. which is presently enrolling members for its 35th subscription series.

Under the signature of James LaBelle, board chairman, the board proclaimed April 15 to May 15 "Community Concert Assn. Month."

Six concerts by nationally and internationally acclaimed musical artists comprise the association's 1987-88 series. All concerts will be held on Saturday evenings in Waukegan West High School Auditorium. Admission is by season membership only. Tickets to individual concerts are not available.

Available through association workers, memberships for the series are priced at $22 until June 1. After June 1, the price will be $25. Special prices are available for students.

Information about purchasing memberships may be obtained from association secretary Helen Sorvari at (312) 623-3178.

Leading off with the first concert of the series on Oct. 24, the Sofia Chamber Orchestra, a 15-member group recognized as one of the finest chamber ensembles in Europe, will perform music from Baroque classics to contemporary. Virtuoso violinist Mincho Michev will be featured as soloist.

The Johnny Mann Singers and Dancers will appear on Nov. 7 with a heart-warming presentation of American history emphasizing the best things about America and titled "Stand Up and Cheer."

On Feb. 27, 1988, the Philippine Dance Co. brings a program displaying the charm and intense beauty of the varied Philippine cultural heritage. Marking its 11th visit to the United States, this group has garnered rave reviews in more than a dozen countries.

Wide diversity of musical programming is a hallmark of the Empire Brass Quintet which will perform at the March 12 concert. From Bach to Bernstein and from Gershwin to Jelly Roll Morton, the group's repertoire has pleased a world-wide audience on its annual tours.

Talisman, a six-voice male vocal ensemble, will present a concert surveying six centuries of choral literature on April 9. Each member of the group is an experienced soloist in his own right, and together they produce a unique vocal color and perform with striking precision.

Concluding the series on April 30, Leonid Kuzmin, a Russian-born pianist, is said to show "every sign of establishing a career of truly international stature" at the young age of 22.

Julie Brown Coming To Grad Night

Six Flags Great America will host two of the Midwest's largest graduation parties for high school seniors and their guests on Friday, May 8, and Friday, May 15. The fun begins both nights at 7 p.m. and continues until 1 a.m.

Special guest MTV Video Jock Julie Brown will be on hand Friday, May 8, to sign autographs and emcee the video bandstand, sponsored by B-96, WBBM-FM, Chicago, in the Grand Music Hall.

Grads can also be the first to experience the flight of a lifetime on Great America's newest thrill ride, the Power Dive. It's exhilarating sensation is guaranteed to send riders soaring to excitement.

One hundred lucky winners of radio promotions at B-96, WTTI-FM, Milwaukee, and WZOK-FM, Rockford, will receive souvenir Power Dive jackets.

The second Grad Night, Friday, May 15, will once again feature the popular video bandstand in addition to exclusive use of the park's over 100 rides and attractions.

Only special Grad Night tickets will be accepted for admission. Tickets are available in advance for $18.10 at all Ticketmaster locations in Chicago (all Rose Records, Sportmart and Carson Pirie Scott stores), Mainstream Records in Milwaukee, Appletree Records in Rockford, Nickelodean Records in Sheboygan, and at the Front Gate on Grad Nights.

Paying guests can have twice the fun when they receive a Twicket which, when validated in the park during Grad Night for 50 cents, allows one to return the next day free of charge. Twickets are non-transferable and valid the following day only.

Schedule Hang Glider Fly-Out

The Cross Country Tow Pilots Assn. (XCTPA) will host its third Annual Memorial Day "Fly Out" May 23 through 25, at Bong Recreation Area, near Burlington.

Pilots will be challenged to fly cross country after releasing at about 2,000 feet from a tow line. Previous flights from Bong have gone as far as 48 miles. Local record is 82 miles; world record is 225 miles.

Last year's competition drew 25 pilots from eight states and approximately 500 intrigued observers. Many pilots chose to fly within the boundaries of the park, which enabled the spectators to see not only the take-offs and landings, but the skills required in flying as well.

Bong Recreation Area is the midwest's premier tow site with a 2.5 mile east/west runway on 5,000 acres of park land. Formerly planned as an Air Force base, Bong now offers many outdoor activities as well as active support of hang gliding.

The sport of hang gliding has improved dramatically in recent years due mainly to pilot education and advancements in equipment. These developments have now made hang gliding the safest form of recreation flight in the world.

Hang gliding has been approved by the U.S. Olympic Committee; and this free-flight sport is soon to be included in the World Olympic competitions.

Bucks' Stove & Range Co.

Genesee Slates Bluegrass

Buck's Stove and Range Company, home-grown country and bluegrass music from Palatine, will perform in Waukegan at the Genesee Theatre, 203 N. Genesee, on Friday, May 15 at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

This is a bluegrass band with really good singers and pickers. The group's sound is a combination of traditional Bluegrass elements and very tight vocal harmonies, all served on a rhythmic bed of contemporary influences.

This means exciting music. The group has toured extensively in Europe, the Caribbean, the Far East, Australia and the U.S., and have produced three record albums.

Ticket prices are $5 for adults, $3 for students, seniors and military, and $2.50 for groups with advanced registration. Call the Genesee box office, (312) 336-0494 for more information.

Silk Brew

Tea bags were first used in 1904 when Thomas Sullivan, a New York merchant, sent his customers samples of tea in small silk bags instead of in the usual tin containers. The customers began to order tea leaves in bags after finding that the drink could be brewed easily with them.

Lights Out

The squid has a unique way of escaping from its enemies. When closely pressed, the squid shoots out a cloud of black ink, leaving its enemy in the dark as it makes its escape.

field Ave., Milwaukee.

The busy hands of the country's finest craftsmen were selected and invited to participate.

Going Latin With Spicy Recipes

by GLORIA DAVIS

Our friends south of the border, down Mexico way are about to celebrate one of their biggest holidays, Cinco de Mayo which, according to my very loose high school Spanish translation, means May 5.

Guess when they celebrate May 5!

So in honor of said celebration, here are Cinco de Mayo recipes, prize winning ones with a Latin flavor that are from the

RIO GRANDE PORK ROAST

3-4 pound boneless pork loin
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cloves minced garlic
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 cup apple jelly
1/2 cup bottled barbeque sauce
1/2 teaspoon chili powder

Rub surfaces of roast well with salt, garlic and chili powder. Place roast in shallow baking pan and roast at 325 degrees for 30 minutes. Combine remaining ingredients in saucepan, simmer for two minutes, pour over roast and continue roasting and basting with sauce for about an hour. While roast is sitting for about 10 minutes before serving, remove pan drippings to saucepan, add water needed to make one cup of liquid, bring to a boil then serve sauce with roast.

With the barbeque season almost upon us, why not try some pork kabobs marinated in the Mexican national drink, la Margarita! It only takes 20 minutes to prepare, 15 minutes to cook, and each serving contains less than 280 calories.

MARGARITA PORK KABOBS

1 pound pork tenderloin cut into one-inch cubes
1 cup margarita mix
1 teaspoon ground coriander
1 clove minced garlic
1 large green or red pepper (one inch chunks)
2 ears corn cut into 8 pieces
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 teaspoons lime juice

National Pork Producers Council.

With all the hoopla about low-fat diets sort of turning PORK into a bad word, the council has come up with a few recipes that keep both the caloric intake and preparation time at a minimum.

For instance, a simple Mexicali pork roast for 12 can take less than 10 minutes to prepare, have only 250 calories per serving and take only one-and-one-half-hours to cook.

big pinch of sugar
1 teaspoon minced parsley.

Mix margarita mix, garlic and coriander and place in plastic bag, dropping pork cubes in, cover and let stand for 30 minutes; blend butter, lime juice, sugar and parsley, set aside. Take skewers threading on pork cubes, corn and pepper in that order. Grill over hot coals of barbeque for about 15 minutes, occasionally basting with butter mixture, turn often.

Literacy Workshop At CLC

The College of Lake County will host a luncheon-workshop on "Adult Education and Literacy: A Community Workshop" from noon to 2:45 p.m. on Friday, May 8. Sponsored by the Lake County Area Planning Council for Adult Education, the Lake County Literacy Program, the Regional Supt. of Schools and CLC's Adult Continuing Education Division, the workshop costs $5 and will be held on the CLC campus. For information and registration, contact Barbara Hall at (312)223-3616.

Commonwealth Edison has a variety of programs on energy-related topics available to community organizations, civic clubs and schools. The programs, conducted by Edison managers and engineers, are tailored to an audience's specific interest and level. Group leaders and teachers wishing to inquire about a program may contact Barbara Arnold at (312)249-9222.

We're making a dramatic point

That freckle-sized dot is the size of a beginning tumor in a breast. A mammogram could detect it today, with almost 100% chance for full recovery. It could be as long as two years from today before that tiny point would grow enough to be detected in manual examination. By then the recovery rate has dropped to 60%.

Doesn't it make sense to see your physician for a prescription for a mammogram? Especially if you are in the age groups or risk categories where breast cancer is more frequently detected?

April is Cancer Crusade Month, so The Women's Health and Lifestyle Center at NIMC is making you a special offer. In conjunction with The American Cancer Society's focus this year on mammography and breast health, NIMC is making a base-line mammogram available to you for only $55. The usual fee is $90, so the savings is substantial.

The only requirements are: you must have a physician's order for the screening (your doctor may call The Women's Health and Lifestyle Center or give you a written prescription); and you must make your appointment during the month of April. Even if your screening cannot be scheduled until May, due to demand, the special offer is valid as long as your appointment was made in April, the Cancer Crusade month.

Evening and Saturday appointments are available in addition to the regular daytime hours. Call 815 344-5000, 3301, Monday through Friday, 8:00 am to 4:00 pm to schedule. The Women's Health and Lifestyle Center is located on the upper level, Suite F in the Professional Arts Building adjacent to the medical center at Route 31 and Bull Valley Road, McHenry.

Family

Treating The Hurt In Children Of Alcoholics

The field of psychology has known many fads. Recently media attention has focused on "Adult Children of Alcoholics." Numerous self-help groups are now meeting. Some professionals see this as just another passing fad. However, David Gates, a senior certified alcohol addictions counselor with Family Counseling Clinic in Grayslake, is not willing to dismiss so quickly the growing interest in the subject. He shared some of his insight based on his 10 years in the field of alcoholism.

For perspective, Gates summarized some common behaviors in alcoholic families. He stressed that situations do vary, but described a family in which the father is alcoholic. With the progression of the alcoholism, predictable family patterns develop.

Family life revolves around father's drinking. As the situation becomes more out of control, the mother and the child make futile attempts to keep him sober. He will not admit that he has a drinking problem. Somehow if the kids would fight less or if mom were more affectionate, then he would be able to drink moderately. For a time he may be able to control himself, and the children think that they are helping him by being very good. However, they often wonder, "Will he be drunk tonight? Will he be violent again? Even when he is not drinking, he is very moody. But the family begins to believe that all of this is because he is under stress."

Gates added that frequently the mother is very nervous as she tries to hold the family together. She may attempt to keep calm herself. Most alcoholic families abide by one cardinal rule: Under no circumstance is anyone else to be told about the drinking problem. When dad is conspicuously absent from holiday gatherings the children silently listen to mother's explanation that he is "under the weather again."

No one would dare say, "Our father is not here because he is drunk. He is an alcoholic, but will not get help!" Remember, in our society children are supposed to obey their parents.

To protect the family secret, the children cannot invite their friends into the home. They may escape by trying to stay away from home or they may become isolated from their peers.

Gates pointed out that children in alcoholic families tend to take on roles based on their birth order. Older children become assistant parents. They look very mature, and seem to not be effected by the drinking. A younger child may become a troublemaker. Dad may even control his drinking long enough to attend the school conference. Another younger child may just withdraw into fantasy. They don't even seem to be there as they spend many hours in their room daydreaming. A youngest child may adopt the role of the "cute little cuddly one." For brief moments they are able to soften their father's irritable temperament. Gates emphasized that everyone in this family is suffering because of the alcoholism.

The coping patterns tend to be brought into one's adult life, thus the current attention on "adult children of alcoholics." When asked to be more specific, Gates described the following adult tendencies.

Low self-image is a common problem. No accomplishment is ever good enough. No amount of reassurance is satisfying. Others may cover up their low self-image by perfectionism. They frequently are irritable and stressed. Still others become people pleasers. They are constantly rescuing people with problems. Typically they get burned out as they over-extend themselves. A woman may marry someone who is not able to hold a job. Thus she continues in the caretaker role.

Gates concluded that trust is also an important adult issue. Parents were unpredictable. Father would make many promises, but then he "passed out" when the event arrived. As adults, some never become intimate, even in their marriages. They will not let down their guard. Others become too trusting and are constantly rejected as adults. Somehow they select "one loser after another" and never find satisfaction.

Gates does conduct classes for adult children of alcoholics. His approach is very positive. Although there were problems in ones childhood, this is not an excuse to stay miserable. His humorous style helps people to look at their pain, but then move on to more satisfying life choices. The key is the awareness and understanding.

His next class will be conducted on May 15, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Family Counseling Clinic, Inc. in Grayslake. To register call (312) 223-8107.

The Family Counseling Clinic has provided Counseling Services to the area for nearly 20 years. Located on Rte. 120 in Grayslake, it is a general psychological psychiatric practice for family, marriage and individual psychotherapy.

Very Busy Time In Antioch

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

As spring finally is in full swing, the pace of activity in Antioch has seemed to quicken also. Housework is being abandoned for yardwork; just about any old excuses will do to get one outside. Before long we'll be doing swimwear to beat the heat. Can you believe it? Glenda Tomaschik, director of Antioch Parks and Recreation, tells us: "You can look forward in the next couple of weeks to receiving your spring/summer program brochure from parks and recreation in the mail. Anyone who has not received one by the end of May, may pick up a copy at either the Village or Antioch Twp. Halls." This brochure will detail and provide registration forms for all the upcoming programs. Glenda also assures us that the "work on Don Jensen Park will continue soon!"

The Antioch High School concert, jazz and symphonic will perform in concert along with its "feeder" grade school bands in Dist. 117 at the annual Band-o-Rama to be held at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 30 at the school.

This event gives the grade school musicians and their parents a "hint of what is to come" as they enter high school. Each band will play a short concert.

The program's "grand finale" is the "Stars and Stripes Forever," played by the entire assemblage and is as thrilling as it is amazing when they all end together. And they do, and will! You try this with over 600 young musicians and see how well you do.

The big day approaches...the one that strikes terror in a young man's heart (and pocketbook) and ranks high in a young woman's memories. Maybe not as the most important, as weddings and birth of children, but the romance of it and the thrill of dressing up still remain. What's happening? The 1987 ACHS Junior Prom of course!

Entitled "Stand By Me," the class of 1988 will travel to the Interlaken Resort in Lake Geneva on Friday, May 1. There will be no school that day; it will be an in-service day for teachers. Wonder why? Do you suppose half the girls in school would call in "sick" that day? That's called "goin' with the flow!"

A different type of threat is in store for theatre lovers as Antioch's own beloved Ken Smouse directs "Don Juan in Hell," the dream sequence from George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman" at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts, Bowen Park, Waukegan, on May 1, 2 and 3. Curtain time on Friday and Saturday is 8 p.m., and on Sunday, there will be a 2 p.m. matinee. Tickets are $7 for adults and $3 for senior citizens, students and military personnel. Come on out and enjoy a classical theatre experience! For reservations call (312) 244-1660.

The Lakes Region Historical Society's third annual Antique Show and Sale will be held Saturday, May 2 and Sunday, May 3 at the Antioch VFW Action Center, 75 North Ave. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is $2.50; refreshments will be available.

Bowlers wanted! The Antioch Jaycees will sponsor their eighth annual Bowling for Autistic Children on Sunday, May 3 at the Antioch Bowl, Rte. 173, in Antioch. Bowlers may start anytime from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. The cost is $3 for three games and includes shoe rental. For more information you may call (312) 395-0152 or (312) 395-5475.

The regular meeting of the Antioch Band Parents' Assn. will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, May 4 at the Antioch Upper Grade School cafeteria. All parents of Dist. 34 band members are eligible and encouraged to attend.

And finally, you know it's spring when the carnival comes to town. The 885 Civic Club of Antioch will present its Third Annual Carnival in Antioch from May 6 through 10th in the city parking lot. Saturday and Sunday daytime hours will be from 1 to 5 p.m.

Plan Construction Of New I-94 Interchanges

Access to the Tri-State Tollway will be expanded under a $13 million interchange construction plan announced by Gov. James Thompson.

The work will give motorists an easier way to enter and leave the Tollway at the Lake-Cook county border and farther north at the junction of the tollway and Illinois Rte. 60.

"As one of the first and most important 'Corridors of Opportunity' outlined in my 1986 State of the State Address, this region of Illinois is home to some of the largest pharmaceutical, medical research and development firms in the country, plus it supports a variety of other companies in many fields," Thompson said.

He explained that at Lake Cook Rd. and I-94, an $11 million construction project will begin in the summer of 1988. When it's completed by fall of 1990, motorists traveling north on I-94 will be able to exit onto Lake Cook Rd. Lake Cook Rd. users will be able to enter I-94's southbound lanes.

Currently there are no exit or entrance ramps at the intersection.

The ramps will include manned and unmanned toll collection facilities and a 40-cent toll for passenger vehicles will be collected.

Farther north, the ramp system at I-94 and Rte. 60 will be expanded under the plan announced by the governor.

The $2 million project includes ramps to connect Rte. 60 to the northbound lanes on I-94 and to provide an exit to Rte. 60 for southbound I-94 motorists. The ramps will be equipped with automated 30-cent toll booths. Work is scheduled to begin in the spring of 1988 and be completed by summer of 1989.

"Recent interchange studies indicated an unprecedented growth in traffic volume and reflect the need for improved access along the Lake County corridor," said Thomas H. Morsch, Jr., executive director of the Illinois State Highway Authority.

"The improved access in the Lake County corridor is another indication of our continued commitment to our patrons to further develop the Toll Authority's goal of providing a safe, convenient and quality method of travel," said Morsch.

Buoys And Belles Host Maypole Dance

Buoys and Belles Square Dance Club of Great Lakes will hold their "Maypole Dance" on Friday, May 1, at West Elementary School, Foster Ave. (one block east of Rte. 43) in Lake Bluff. A rounds workshop will start at 8 p.m., and caller Bob Wilson will cue the squares beginning at 8:30 p.m. All modern western square dancers in the area are invited; refreshments will be served.

Fair Assn. Announces Free Admission Dates

Lake County Fair Assn. secretary Walter Krumery has announced that admission to the Lake County Fair will be free for groups of children and disabled persons and their escorts on Wednesday and Thursday, July 29 and 30. To take advantage of this offer, groups must request the special rate in writing, on official letterhead. Requests should be directed to Krumery at the Lake County Fair Assn., P.O. Box 216, Grayslake, 60030. The fair will run from Wednesday, July 29 through Sunday, Aug. 2, this year.

Program Helps Severely Disabled Find Jobs

Once considered by many to be unemployable, hundreds of Illinois' severely disabled residents are finding a whole new world of opportunities now available to them, thanks to the Supported Employment Program. The program, which has been in operation for nearly two years, helps match severely disabled persons with employers, apparently to everyone's advantage.

Administered by the Dept. of Rehabilitation Services (DORS), with help from the Dept. of Mental Health and Development Disabilities, the program's philosophy is that very few disabilities are too severe to prevent employment.

Traditionally, severely disabled persons have been regarded as either unemployable or only capable of working alongside others with similar disabilities in specially supervised settings. Under the supported employment concept—which is defined as "competitive work in integrated work settings"—people with severe physical and developmental disabilities work next to non-disabled employees in private businesses.

Although still a relatively new program, administrators are encouraged by its success thus far. Approximately 350 disabled persons have found employment through the 33 supported employment projects around the state. Participants in the program are earning nearly $2 million in annual aggregate wages, and paid about $100,000 in taxes last year.

Businesses participating in the program have found, often to their surprise, that severely disabled persons make exceptional employees. In fact, disabled persons have proven to be ideal for many types of jobs, especially entry-level jobs with traditionally high turnover rates, jobs involving step-by-step procedures which must be followed, and jobs involving judgements of concrete facts rather than abstract concepts.

Another benefit to business from these employees is that they tend to stick with their jobs, are seldom absent and have excellent performance and safety records. And it's important to remember that jobs filled by supported employment participants are not "special" positions—they are competitive jobs that could be filled by either a disabled or non-disabled employee.

Supported employees are accompanied to the job by job coaches, who are paid through state and federal funding. Each job coach may work with as many as six people on any job site. As employee skills improve, the job coach's supervision decreases to periodic reviews or training for new skills.

Technical assistance and evaluation of the model programs is provided through a supported employment research project at the University of Illinois, while direct assistance and the actual matching of employers and employees comes from community-based service organizations.

The Supported Employment Program is truly a no-lose situation for everyone. Severely disabled persons, whose futures once held little promise, now are given the dignity of becoming productive members of society. Businesses, which previously believed such persons were unemployable, can find a new source of dependable, hardworking employees. And ultimately, all of us benefit from a program that helps put more Illinois residents to work.

I encourage all local businesses interested in participating the Supported Employment Program to call (1-800) JOBS NOW, that's (1-800) 562-7669 for more information or to list a job opening.

National Tourism Week To Begin On May 18

National Tourism Week has been officially designated by President Reagan and begins Monday, May 18. The week recognizes

We can anticipate a blossoming invitational effort from the Travel Industry Assn. It's numerous interrelated industries include foods, clothing, hotels, restaurants, transportation and travel agents. Then add the many tax-supported State, County and City Tourism offices for an ongoing informational deluge, regarding places to visit and reasons why.

It seems strange that Uncle Sam spends only a token amount of about $12 million a year to promote tourism. Individual states, however, have doubled their budgets in the past five years to some $234 million. We in Illinois top the tourism promotion budget list this year with more than $15 million allocation. Close behind is New York with well over $14 million. Michigan and Pennsylvania will top $11 million, with Tennessee and Florida just a million behind them.

International tourism records indicate the U.S. captured only 11 percent of global spending by foreign travelers. International U.S. dollar exchange values may tend to be more attractive to foreign visitors this year as our dollar continues to decline in world markets.

Canadians constitute the largest single source of our international visitors count. This month Air Canada celebrated their historical 50th anniversary and we helped them blow out the candles. They started on April, 1937, as the Trans-Canada Airlines with a fleet of two ten-passenger, twin-engine planes and a single engine bi-plane. These were purchased for $169,000 then... today one jumbo jet costs over $70 million... that alone is progress. In July '37 three more 10-passenger planes were added to the fleet.

Today Air Canada has 22,000 employees, 62 domestic and foreign destinations and the fleet numbers 108. It's more than just aircraft now, as some Air Canada trips combine with rental automobiles, RVs or houseboats.

The U.S. dollar is still strong in the Canadian exchange, making Canada a big vacation bargain. Air Canada can be reached at (800)422-6232... their tourism desk has extensive information.

Mohawks Plan Bigger, Better Second Campaign

When a baseball team losses just two games for an entire season, even at the youth level, there is a tendency to start thinking about professional baseball, making videos or at the very least, becoming a star in a few years for the local high school team.

But Grayslake Mohawk manager Tom Hunt has other ideas about the nation's best game. Sure, his first-year Mohawks went 19-2 last year and won the Eastern Division of the Mike's Memorial League, but Hunt was disappointed. Not with his players, but rather, with himself.

"Some people would say we had a good season. I came away from the season a little bit disappointed. I really did not feel I had given it my best shot. We really did not practice a whole lot, I was busy with my schedule flying around the country, so things were still at amiss. This year I resolved that that was not going to happen," Hunt said.

Changes for the team comprised of 10-to-12-year olds from Grayslake and Round Lake started with Hunt's philosophy of practice.

"We've changed our complete practice schedule and the way we practice. We've change the way we delegate things. The coaches that I have have come to the conclusion that there should be one voice out there. You can't have four or five people giving instructions," Hunt said.

Hunt, realizing his team's poor showing in state tournament play last year may have been caused by lack of games, will not have that problem this time around. The Mohawks, in addition to competing in the Lake County-based Mike's Memorial League, are also scheduled to compete in the North Suburban League. The team's schedule, which runs through the first week of July, includes doubleheaders, night games a trip to Wisconsin and two-nighters. All told, the Mohawks should plan on staying home for the next eight weeks of spring and summer as some 30 plus games dot the filled calendar.

The Mohawk players all were part of the established Avon League two summers ago. Hunt said a group of parents helped form the team. Community support has been a key ingredient for the Mohawks. Businesses around Grayslake and Round Lake areas sport "We Support Mohawk Baseball" posters. The College of Lake County lends its support of the program by providing the Mohawks with a place to play its home games.

"It was easier than I thought it was going to be," Hunt said in describing the putting together of the program.

"We had parents that wanted a new program and were willing to work for it. Without people really pitching in and helping, we really could have fallen short. One of the parents was a teacher who worked with graphics and he did all our scorecards for us, did all our contracts for us, he printed our schedules, these are little things you don't think about. It really came off a lot better than I thought it was going to," Hunt said.

The group of parents which helped formed the team meant good players.

"Whenever you have dedicated parents, with concern for their children, you will have good baseball players. We had a good corp to work with," Hunt said.

Joey Meyer, Aaron Strain and Steve Taylor are part of that "corp" and all will be back this year for the team. "At Avon, they were in the upper 15 percent," Hunt said.

"When we put that group together, the real challenge was to get them to mix. That's the challenge," Hunt said.

Also on the team this year are pitcher-catcher David Carrillo; rightfielder John Hunt; relief pitcher, outfielder Alex Ortigosa; pitcher; first baseman Steve Ring; third baseman, pitcher Clint Rodriguez; first baseman, pitcher Scott Schupp; rightfielder, first baseman Jeff Taylor; shortstop, pitcher Steven Taylor; leftfielder Matt Cullen; centerfielder Rusty Welch and second baseman, catcher Robby Commuso.

Assistant coach John Rodriguez will handle the dugout responsibilities, Joe Meyer is the infield coach, Jim Taylor is the pitching and outfield coach and Wayne Schupp is a pitching coach.

The manager sees a bright future for his players when they play at Grayslake or Round Lake High Schools.

"As far as the continuity is concerned, that's hard to beat," Hunt said.

These youngsters will get more from the summer game than the fundamentals of hit-and-run and where to throw to the cut-off man.

"Baseball is more than just swinging a bat. There's pride involved. They learn to take responsibility and work to better themselves," Hunt said.

Calling ALL little leagues, Babe Ruth leagues, etc.: in an effort to increase coverage of summer youth baseball in general in the Lakeland area, Lakeland Newspapers is inviting all leagues to send information about their games. What we're looking for is schedules, standings, final scores and perhaps a brief paragraph about the games. Warren, Antioch Seek Consistency In Loop Games

It's been a frustrating season so far for the Warren baseball team but the Blue Devils will be hoping they can turn things around April 30 against Antioch.

The Blue Devils lost two-of-three games last week in splitting a doubleheader against Mundelein and losing to North Chicago.

Warren was 4-4 overall, 3-3 in the North Suburban Conference, after losing to North Chicago 9-3 and splitting with Mundelein.

"It was a close game but we made a couple of mental mistakes. It was 3-2 in the fifth inning but we had a double play and we did not turn it and they went on to score six runs," Warren coach Ron Shelton said.

Warren could not recover from that six-run blast by the Warhawks, who are making their presence felt after being in the league's basement in previous seasons.

Ransley Presley picked up the win for North Chicago and the Warhawks outthit the Devils 9-8.

After losing a 6-5 battle to Mundelein in the first game of a doubleheader, Warren bounced back to score four times in the first inning of the second game.

"The first inning was important because we got off to a good start after losing the first game," Shelton said.

Mundelein tried to rally, scoring a single run in their first but Warren answered that with a three-spot in the fourth for a 7-1 lead. Warren added single runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Tom Thompson picked up the win for Warren, who outhit Mundelein 11-7.

Contributing to the Warren attack included Brad Indlecoffer, who was four-for-five on the day with four runs-batted-in and a home run in the first game; Derek Shelton was four-for-eight; Brent Howard four-for-six and Chris Lux two-for-three.

Grant Aims To Commence New Winning Streak

There must be something elusive about winning that 14th straight game.

The Milwaukee Brewers could not do it and neither could the Grant Bulldogs, who had their winning ways sidetracked by Waukegan West in a doubleheader loss Saturday.

"We won 13 straight and I think that's the longest winning streak for a Grant baseball team. We played pretty good ball during that streak, but if it had to end it ended at the hands of a very good team," Grant coach Fritz Kasluasky said.

The Bulldogs were still perfect in Northwest Suburban Conference play heading into this week's games. Grant hopes to keep its distance between itself and the rest of the league when the Bulldogs battle Round Lake May 4. On May 1, Grant travels to Mundelein for a non-league encounter.

Elsewhere in the NWSC, teams are hoping they can get enough conference games in order to catch Grant.

Kazlausky said his team was "one hit away from being 14-0" and not getting that hit gave West a chance to score five times in the eighth inning and win the first game.

Grant spotted Waukegan West a 7-1 lead in the fifth inning, but these Bulldogs did not quit. A five-run fifth got Grant back into the game at 7-6. The Bulldogs "doubled their pleasure" as Bob Besko, Mike MacDonald, Joe Vocke, Frank Geu, and Mike Kazlauskas all collected doubles. Jim Theobald singled.

Grant looked like it was going to take control in the sixth as the Bulldogs loaded the bases. However, Grant could not get the key hit that could have provided win No. 14 and had to settle for a 7-7 tie. Two innings later, Waukegan West scored five runs.

There was no such comeback for Grant in the second game. Waukegan West rolled after gaining an 8-0 lead to a 13-2 win.

"We just did not have any pitching and we faced three of their best pitchers," Kazlausky said after Grant managed just five hits.

Before going up against Waukegan West, Grant's bats pounded out 31 runs as the Bulldogs blasted Woodstock 20-2 and Wauconda 11-0.

McDonald picked up the non-league win against the Blue Streaks as he allowed five hits and struck out nine hitters.

Kazlausky was a perfect four-for-four with a triple and four runs scored, Marc Borton was two-for-four with three runs-batted-in and McDonald was two-for-two with three rbi's. Six players had one hit.

McDonald was also the winner against Wauconda, pitching a three-hitter.

Grayslake will host Wauconda in a home make-up game May 1.

The Rams used some daring strategy to pull out a 5-4 win over Marian Central April 24.

It took a squeeze bunt by Tony Bussone in the eighth inning to give the Rams the NWSC win.

"The bases were loaded and the count was one ball and two strikes. They were playing back and we decided to challenge them. It was a question of whether Bussone was going to execute or their pitcher was going to execute," Grayslake coach Jim Haas said.

NORTRAN Analyzing Soo Line

The North Suburban Mass Transit Dist. (NORTRAN), has endorsed the Metra Commuter Rail decision to continue with a "careful and deliberate" analysis of the NORTRAN-originated proposal to institute commuter rail service on the freight-only tracks of the Soo Line railroad in north Cook and southern Lake Counties.

In a letter to municipal officials in communities along the rail route from Des Plaines to Mundelein, John Barriger, chairman of the district's rail committee, reported that the Metra board has approved a staff recommendation to postpone further analysis of the separate "north leg" of the Soo between Grayslake and Antioch. That route, according to projections, would attract only 250 riders daily. The "south leg", whose trains would continue from Des Plaines to Chicago on the existing Metra/C&NW commuter route, is expected to generate as many as 2,700 boardings daily on three inbound morning trains. There would be three counterpart outbound trains each weekday evening.

Citing the estimated $30.6 million in startup costs for the Mundelein service, and noting that the two railroads' rental fees have yet to be negotiated, NORTRAN wrote "it is time now to deal with the realities of what must happen for rail service to commence."

The NORTRAN letter revealed that Metra will meet with Soo Line's top management in the near future to discuss the proposal and the amount of the "trackage right" fee. Similar discussions will be held with the Chicago & North Western. NORTRAN also advised that they are seeking assistance from the communities along the 15-mile route.

Metra will meet with NORTRAN trustees and municipal officials of these communities by mid-May "to focus on what the communities can do to lessen the sizeable startup costs."

Q.: How does one become a stockbroker?

A.: You must first get hired by a registered broker-dealer firm and undergo a training period, usually three months, where you learn about the various market instruments and stock markets. After training, you must pass the Securities and Exchange Commission Series 7 exam to trade securities, as well as the so-called "all-states" exam, administered through the New York Stock Exchange. You must also pass exams for each state where you would trade.

change. You must also pass exams for each state where you would trade.

"You need a lot of sales and product training, which is available at most of the larger stock brokerage firms, and which is a prerequisite for licensing," said Jack Hagman, a broker with first of Michigan, a regional stock firm.

Q.: I have been investing money in mutual funds for quite a while, using different brokers. The problem is that these brokers do not offer helpful advice and I have lost more than $30,000. Now another broker wants me to invest $60,000 in certain stocks. How do I know if I can trust these brokers? If I lost my money, who can I turn to for assistance?

A.: You don't absolutely "know" if you can trust the broker. Even the biggest and best of brokerage houses have some bad apples, and the smallest firms will have some winners. Your major mistake may have been in investing in an area about which you knew little. Even if you know nothing about the company whose stock you've purchased, you should know something about the industry it's in or its product. Otherwise you will have to blindly trust the broker—something you should never do.

"Beware of brokers you have not thoroughly checked, or who push too-good-to-be-true opportunities, or anyone who wants you to act quickly," said Mark Klibanow, a vice president with E.F. Hutton.

If you have lost money because you bought the wrong stock, there is not much you can do—buying stocks is inherently risky. But if you have lost money due to negligence or dishonesty on the part of your stockbroker, first try to settle with the brokerage firm. If it will not respond to your complaints, you can complain to the arbitration board of the stock exchange where your stock was traded, or file a civil suit. If the sum involved is large, you should consult an attorney.

Q.: I am a 70-year-old recent retiree and will be going on an international mission for the next 18 months. We have sold our house for $150,000 and need to invest wisely so that when we return, we can buy a smaller place and retire.

Your past columns raise questions about the wisdom of our broker, who is advising us to invest in GNMA's, treasury notes and other instruments requiring high commissions.

A.: As for GNMA's, treasury notes and similar instruments: The major problem with any long-term investment sensitive to interest rates is that you can lose substantial amounts of your capital if interest rates rise. If this happens, when you return you won't be able to take out your capital without taking a bath.

There are many mutual funds that have low or no commission or fees. These are called "no-load" funds. They can be bought directly from the sponsor, without a broker or a broker's commission. They are often advertised in the financial pages of your newspaper.

Mutual funds invest in a great variety of instruments. The most secure are money-market mutual funds, which invest in short-term government and private interest-bearing securities. While the yield may vary with interest rates, your capital is safe, because the securities have short maturities, and can be turned over quickly into new investments. Such funds currently offer a return of about six percent.

Other mutual funds invest in high-risk stocks, and may offer returns of more than 20 percent. The returns are not guaranteed, though, and you can lose much of your capital if the fund buys the wrong stocks.

Q.: While employed as a supervisor at U.S. Steel during the 1950s, my father purchased U.S. Steel common stock under the company's management stock program. When he retired, he transferred the stock to my son, after which the price per share dropped considerably.

Who can I write to at U.S. Steel (now USX) to determine the prices he paid for the stock in order to determine any losses?

A.: The stock transfer department at USX told us that the value of the stock is determined by a number of factors. For example, if your son inherited any of the stock upon your father's death, then the value on the day of his death would be used to determine the cost basis.

You should write to USX, including your father's name and, if you have it, his social security number. The address is: USX Corp., Stock Transfer Dept., 600 Grant St., Room 3381, Pittsburgh, Pa., 15230. The phone is (412)433-4800.

Exercise Periodic Checks On Social Security Record

The time has finally come. You're almost 65. After 40 years of hard work, you're ready to retire. You head for your local social security office to apply for benefits. But the amount of your monthly benefit check is much less than you anticipated. What happened?

It could have been any number of things. Perhaps you didn't give your employer your correct Social Security number. Or maybe your employer made a mistake when he reported your income. But not to worry...the Illinois CPA Society advises a number of simple, preventative steps you may take to protect your benefits.

First, always exercise care when reporting your Social Security number to your employer. If you lose your card, contact your Social Security office for a replacement.

Another good check is to verify the correctness of the W-2 you receive from your employer. Be sure your name, address and Social Security number appear correctly. The box marked "FICA wages" should show the total earnings form which your employer withheld Social Security taxes. This is the amount of earnings entered on your Social Security record.

As a further precaution, you should periodically request a check of your Social Security record, a measure the Social Security Administration itself recommends you do at least every three years. Just call, visit or write your local Social Security office and ask for form SSA-7004PC, "Request for Statement of Earnings."

As an added feature, you may also request an estimate of the monthly benefit you will be entitled to when you reach 65 by writing on the card, "Please furnish benefit estimate." Of course, this estimate will only be based on the amount of earnings you currently have credited. So if your retirement is a long way off, this information isn't going to be very meaningful.

By following these simple measures, you can ensure that, when the time comes, you will get the benefits you are entitled to.

Almost all workers in America—an estimated 97 percent—are consumers of Social Security. In recognition of National Consumer's Week, April 19 through 25, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs, has prepared a pamphlet which answers many common questions about Social Security. For your free copy, write to the Illinois CPA Society at 222 S. Riverside Plaza, Chicago, IL 60606.

McHenry Retirement Complex Nears Completion

Construction is nearing completion for the McHenry Villa retirement community, located in McHenry, on a site formerly occupied by the Northern Illinois Medical Center. Situated on the Boone Lagoon arm of the Fox River in the heart of McHenry at 3516 West Waukegan Rd., McHenry Villa is being completely transformed into a full-service, rental retirement community, which is scheduled to open in May.

McHenry Villa features comfortable, private rental apartments in a pleasant and stimulating environment where friends and family are welcome to visit. According to Ingrid Nowicki, marketing director, "Active couples and single persons of retirement age appreciate being able to enjoy their independence while maintaining their long-standing friendships and associations. In addition, they are happy to know there is a complete community support system available to provide assistance or security whenever it may be needed."

Studio, one-and-two bedroom apartments are available in a variety of styles. Rates for single occupancy start at $975 per month, including rent, meals, weekly housekeeping, flat linen laundry service, planned activities, utilities except telephone and use of all facilities. The monthly charge for a second occupant is $500, and there is a one-time administrative set-up fee of $1,250 per person. Phase one of development contains 104 apartments.

Dole To Highlight Annual County Republican Dinner

When he addresses the Lake County Republican Federation spring dinner May 15, U.S. Senate Minority Leader Robert Dole will discuss nuclear disarmament, budget deficit, military spending, Nicaragua, problems of the aged and unemployed, and other issues, according to Federation president Ned L. Fisher.

A likely although unannounced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, Dole will have an attentive audience of more than 800, Fisher said. This will be Dole's second appearance before the Lake County GOP.

The Federation fundraiser will be held at the Mundelein Holiday Inn, Rtes. 45 and 83. The event, a dinner-dance, will start with a reception at 6 p.m. Dole will speak at 7:45 p.m.

Dole was born in Russell, Kansas, in 1923, and received his law degree from Washburn University. The ranking Republican Congressman, he has been U.S. Senator from Kansas since 1968, after serving four consecutive terms in the House of Representatives.

He was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee from 1981 to 1984 when he was elected by his colleagues to Senate Leader. He was reelected in 1986.

Dole served as Republican National Chairman in the 1970s. He was Gerald Ford's running mate in the 1976 presidential election.

Dinner chairman is Robert McCormack of Lake Forest, a federation board member. Heading patron ticket sales is David Amory, also of Lake Forest, a Federation vice president. Patron tickets again are $175.

Co-chairman for the $50 dinner tickets are William Thompson of Antioch, who is regional superintendent of schools, and Charles Ofenloch of Waukegan, a Federation board member.

On the reception committee are Fisher, McCormack, Amory, David Brown, state Central Committeeman for the 10th Dist.; Albert Jourdan, State Central Committeeman for the 12th Dist.; and Robert Neal, Chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee.

In charge of arrangements are Ronald Strahan of Wadsworth, Federation Treasurer, and Michael Jaroch of Lake Villa.

Timothy Osmond of Antioch, assistant treasurer, is hospitality chairman.

Marilyn Sterbenz, also of Antioch, is cocktail chairman. Decorations are being handled by the Women's Republican Club of Lake Forest-Lake Bluff, with Jean Masters as chairman. Dance music will be provided by the Cabaret orchestra.

Dinner and patron tickets are available at Republican Headquarters, 128 N. Genesee St. in Waukegan, from presidents of Republican clubs and organizations, and members of the Federation Board of Governors. The annual fundraiser is the Federation's major source of funds to support GOP programs in Lake County and to maintain Republican Headquarters.

Senior Circuit Breaker Rebates Are On The Way

Senior and disabled citizens will begin receiving their Circuit Breaker tax rebates soon, according to Illinois Director of Revenue Roger D. Sweet.

More than 73,000 checks totaling $14.8 million were scheduled to be mailed by the end of April, Sweet said.

These are the first of the estimated 245,000 Circuit Breaker checks Illinois senior and disabled citizens will be receiving within the next five weeks, according to Sweet.

Included in the first batch of checks are 38,119 for persons who also filed for pharmaceutical assistance. First-time filers for pharmaceutical assistance who have not made any errors on their Circuit Breaker application will be receiving their plastic "charge cards" in June. Persons filing for renewal of existing cards will receive their new cards just before their current cards expire.

Current participants whose cards expire in May (and who have filed Circuit Breaker forms requesting to continue in the program) are receiving letters from the state authorizing a one-month extension of their current cards. This will assure that there is no lapse in coverage of their medications, Sweet said.

Applicants are receiving their checks about a month later than they did last year, Sweet pointed out, because computer tapes from the Social Security Administration used to confirm age, disability and Social Security income weren't delivered to the state until early April. Usually they arrive by the end of February.

Circuit Breaker is a state program which provides tax rebates for property taxes and other taxes paid by low-income seniors and disabled persons. There is a rebate for property taxes, based on household income and amount of taxes paid; an additional grant of $80 for general taxes paid; and a pharmaceutical program where qualified individuals can trade their $80 grant for one year's coverage of prescription medications for heart ailments, diabetes and arthritis.

To qualify for the Circuit Breaker programs, persons must be Illinois residents aged 65 or older or be completely disabled according to Social Security Administration criteria, and have a total household income of less than $14,000.

Citizens have until Dec. 31 to file Circuit Breaker applications.

MARQUEE

By J.T. YURKO

Somewhere between "Looking for Mr. Goodbar" and "Short Circuit" is "Making Mr. Right," a lame comedy of social mores with a science-fiction format.

The concept of the innocent alien commenting on contemporary society is rapidly becoming overworked and deserves to be given a long rest.

The twist in "Making Mr. Right" is combining this premise with a "good man is hard to find" message. Ann Magnuson stars as a public-relations wiz who promotes politicians, entertainers and an occasional rock star. A company called Chemtec hires her to help sell the American public on an android they're developing for deep-space flight. As a result of Magnuson's sell job, however, the android begins to take on some very human qualities. The android, named Ulysses, learns how to make eye contact, then progresses to seeking contact of a more intimate nature.

Much to the chagrin of his creator, played by John Malkovich, he falls in love with his teacher. Malkovich, who plays the android as well, has programmed the creature to be very much like himself — all business and no pleasure. Since the creator and creature look exactly alike, Magnuson's emotional tinkering leads to a predictable and largely humorless series of farcical events.

Most of the gags simply fall flat. Director Susan Seidelman ("Desperately Seeking Susan") would have done well to screen Blake Edwards' comedies to learn how slapstick works. Letting an android loose on a shopping mall opens up all kinds of comic possibilities, but none of them are explored here.

The social commentary is equally disjointed. Every male is either oversexed or vacuous, every woman a tribute to trendiness, and minor characters are woefully mishandled. Where Seidelman succeeds is in her creation of atmosphere, but her atmospheric touches would work much better if the movie contained better material.

ASK TONI

Robert Hays' other series

By Toni Reinhold

Has Robert Hays starred in any TV series other than "Starman"? We love watching him in this show. Is "Starman" adapted from a book? - A.S., Utica, N.Y.

Robert Hays

Hays, who did a wonderful job in the recent TV movie "Murder by the Book," played Brad Benson in the series "Angie" (1979-80). The "Starman" series is based on the film of the same title in which Jeff Bridges played the title role.

How did Jeff Chandler die? - A.S., Odessa, Texas.

Chandler died of blood poisoning in 1961 at the age of 42. He was a fine actor who won an Academy Award nomination for Best Supporting Actor in the 1950 Western "Broken Arrow."

My brother claims that the movie "Ghostbusters" and its cartoon spinoff are really taken from an earlier cartoon. Is he right? - M.W., Covington, Va.

No. The hit comedy "Ghostbusters" (1984) was written by Dan Aykroyd and Harold Ramis.

They starred in the film along with Bill Murray and Sigourney Weaver. The cartoon series came later and is based on the movie.

I say Ronnie Claire Edwards played the storekeeper in the series "The Waltons." Am I right? Did she ever have another series? - S.M., Montrose, Calif.

You're right. She played Corabeth Godsey from 1974-81 in "The Waltons." She also played Aunt Dolly in "Boone," which aired during the 1983-84 season.

(Send your letters to Ask Toni, United Feature Syndicate, 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, NY 10166. Due to the large volume of mail, personal replies cannot be given.)

Manpower Opens New Lakehurst Facility

During the open house, Bartels presented 30 outstanding temporaries with Manpower Tiffany Awards—a sterling silver necklace or tie tack—for exceeding performance objectives.

ORDINANCE NO.: 87-0-15

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING A VARIATION UNDER THE GRAYSLAKE ZONING ORDINANCE FOR PREMISES AT 318 CENTER STREET, GRAYSLAKE, ILLINOIS

WHEREAS, a petition was heretofore submitted by Richard C. Bolt, the Owner of record of the property, for a variation under the Grayslake Zoning Ordinance, being Ordinance No. 235, as amended (comprehensively by Ordinance No. 77-0-26), for the premises at 381 Center Street, Grayslake, Illinois, and described as:

The Easterly 71.5 feet of the Southerly 55 feet of Station Lot 58; the Easterly 71.5 feet of Station Lots 60 and 62 and all that part of the Easterly 71.5 feet of Lessor's right of way lying Northerly of a line running parallel with and 50 feet distant Southerly (measured at right angles) from the Southerly line of said Station Lot 62.

WHEREAS, this matter was heretofore referred to the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Grayslake, Lake County, Illinois, for a public hearing upon said petition, and said Zoning Board of Appeals caused a notice to be prepared containing a general statement of the purpose of the proposed variation and an identification of the premises for which the variation was proposed and stating the time and place of a public hearing for the consideration thereof; and

WHEREAS, said notice of said public hearing was duly published as required by the relevant provisions of said Zoning Ordinance, at least 15 days but not more than 30 days in advance in a newspaper of general circulation published in said Village; and

WHEREAS, said Zoning Board of Appeals held a public hearing in said Village as specified in said notice upon said petition for a variation and the witnesses were duly sworn upon oath and examined at said hearing, and pursuant to said hearing the Zoning Board of Appeals has made its report and recommendation thereon, to the President and Board of Trustees of said Village; and

WHEREAS, the President and Board of Trustees of said Village, after due investigation and consideration of said report, which report is on file in the Office of the Village Clerk of this Village, and by reference is hereby made a part hereof, have determined that the nature and extent of the public interest to be subserved require the granting of the variation hereinafter detailed.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF GRAYSLAKE, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1. FINDING OF FACTS AND MEETING OF CONDITIONS. That it is hereby found as facts that the variation will only modify the application of the Zoning Ordinance to achieve a parity among properties similarly located and classified and is necessary to overcome exceptional physical conditions which pose a practical difficulty and an unnecessary hardship in such a way as to prevent the owner from using his property as intended by the Zoning Ordinance; and that all of the following conditions have been met:

a. The variation does not permit a use otherwise excluded from the particular zones in which said property is located.

b. The location of the real estate and zoning classifications require the requested variation in order to allow proper economic development.

c. The aforesaid circumstances or conditions are such that the strict application of the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance would deprive the applicant of reasonable use of his land, and same does not constitute a mere loss in value to justify a variation but would result in a deprivation of a beneficial use of the land.

d. The variation granted is the minimum adjustment necessary for the reasonable use of the land.

e. The granting of the variation is in harmony with the general purposes and intent of the Zoning Ordinance, and will not be injurious to the neighborhood, detrimental to the public welfare, or in conflict with the Comprehensive Plan of the Village.

SECTION 2. VARIATION GRANTED. That a variation is hereby granted for the premises to authorize construction of two studio apartments on the third story of a non-elevator building, being a variance from Section 205 D2 of the Grayslake Zoning Ordinance, as amended.

SECTION 3. NUMBER OF ORDINANCE. That this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval as required by law, and shall be designated Ordinance No. 87-0-15.

Suburbanization Keys Changes In America

by JOHN STEINKE

The suburbanization of America after World War II was in many ways a phenomenon unparalleled in American history. The cities devoured whole farms, covering the topsoil with suburbia and paving what's left for a shopping mall. Americans traded the asphalt jungles in the cities for postage stamp lots in the suburbs.

It was a massive movement, swelling in a single generation to the point where more Americans lived in the suburbs than either the city or the country. The population explosion of the 1950's transformed the suburbs from basically farmland into mainly suburban communities. During the 1950's, the population of suburban Cook County increased by almost 80 percent; in DuPage County the increase was 103 percent. Lake County population rose by 64 percent; Will

County by 43 percent; Kane County by 40 percent; and McHenry County by 66 percent.

The suburb has long had a powerful hold on the American imagination. In the suburban myth, all men are affluent Republican commuters, swilling one Beefeater gin martini too many in the bar car of the 5:32. Frustrated women spend their days driving from station to school to supermarket to bridge club. The kids are spoiled and confused. Families move regularly as daddy is transferred or climbs the corporate ladder.

The myth was nurtured in postwar fiction like Sloan Wilson's "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit." A host of Doris Day movies humorously portrayed the frantic lifestyle of suburbanites. Suburbanologists, whose critical views became an integral part of this American culture myth, characterized suburbia as a monolithic landscape of plastic people. They emphasized a suburban conformity phenomenon in a series of best-selling books in the 1950's.

These initial studies focused on a particular type of suburb—the residential ("dormitory") community which had been created by real estate developers to meet the increased demand for housing following World War II. The original interpretations stereotyped suburbia as a "homogeneous" middle class enclave.

In his landmark book, "The Organization Man," William Whyte, Jr. investigated postwar Park Forest, Ill., and Levittown, Pa. Whyte painted a picture of dreary business types commuting to and from the suburbs all dressed in identical button-down shirts, gray flannel suits, and wing-tipped shoes. The people were white. The homes were new single-family dwellings. The males were aggressively dedicated to their promising, upwardly mobile professions. They were fiercely loyal to their corporate superiors.

In "The Split-Level Trap," Richard E. and

Katherine K. Gordan described suburbia as a place where "there cannot be a blade of crabgrass in the lawn, the children must be scrubbed clean, and a new car every four years is a necessity." In "The Status Seekers," Vance Packard depicted the typical suburban couple as being fanatic in their devotion to their three-bedroom, two baths, three cars and 2.3 children—not necessarily in that order.

Dennis and Doris Status Seeker were immersed in a mass hysteria about keeping the lawn mowed, the house painted, the windows cleaned, the bushes trimmed and the cars washed. The newly-emerging suburbs sprouting up in the hinterlands of America, would not tolerate any deviation from established Ban-the-Crabgrass norm.

Election Judges Are Endangered Species

County-wide changes are needed in the process of choosing election judges in order to head off shortages, according to Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

In the April 7 election, a severe shortage developed, leaving 400-500 vacancies, she said, forcing her to mount a last-minute push to fill the posts.

"It was very bad this year and a crisis we've never had to deal with before," she remarked.

Problems center around both the recruitment process and pay scale, and possible solutions will be probed in efforts to improve the situation by the next election in Nov.

A joint effort will be made involving the county clerk's office, the taxation and election committee of the county board that oversees that office, and the respective political parties.

Under current conditions, the county clerk has difficulty filling vacant judges' posts, yet is expected to do so. "It falls in our lap," Hess said.

Political parties prepare lists of judges once every two years and then try to fill openings that develop. If they can't, the county clerk is expected to bridge the gap.

Hess said that her office was contacting a wide range of groups trying to fill the jobs, including senior citizens, substitute teachers, mayors and village clerks.

She even used about 20 people from a temporary help agency.

Asked what caused the April shortage, she said that nothing unusual developed, but added that a big factor is the overall trend of women moving back into the workforce.

Pay is also a cause, she noted, saying that the state limits the base fee to about $50 a day. Lake County pays $45 a day for untrained judges and $53 for trained judges.

Hess did say, however, that several bills at the state level propose increases in maximum pay.

She also pointed out that judges work a 14-hour day, making it a long, tiring experience. "We're competing for leisure time and we're really losing this battle," she remarked.

Partisan politics worsens the situation when the county clerk is expected to find judges, she said.

Five judges serve each precinct and in some cases three, and there are 395 precincts county-wide. Judges are divided by party affiliation according to whether the precinct voted Republican or Democratic in the last governor's election.

That is, a five-judge precinct would get three Republican judges and two Democratic if the precinct voted Republican.

Judges are expected to state their party affiliation, yet in some cases that is waived if a judge is desperately needed, Hess said.

She added that in some Democratic Precincts Republican judges can't be found and vice versa.

Nominate Weichman For Award

Roger Weichmann, chemistry instructor at the College of Lake County, has been selected as the college's Outstanding Faculty Member.

The selection process, initiated by CLC's Student Senate, includes student nominations, supporting statements from associate deans and a statement of teaching philosophy from the instructor.

Students who nominated Weichman for the award consistently referred to his patience and high standards in teaching chemistry. "He's always willing to provide extra help," said one student. "He makes chemistry fun, and that's a miracle!"

The selection of the CLC Outstanding Faculty Member is part of a statewide selection for the Illinois Outstanding Faculty Member, sponsored by the Illinois Community College Trustee Assn. The competition attempts to acknowledge faculty who exemplify excellence in education and who go beyond the expectations of quality instruction and contractual obligations.

Weichman, a Grayslake resident, is CLC's nomination for the state award. He has been a faculty member since 1971.

Schmidt's Dismissal Sure To Boost Campaign

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

DIST. 4 COUNTY Board candidate Suzy Schmidt of Lake Villa received an unexpected boost to her campaign last week. After serving for five years as director of the Lindenhurst Parks day is Thursday, April 30.

Schmidt, along with Larry Leafblad of Grayslake, is challenging Republican incumbents Jim Fields (Antioch) and Fred Popp (Lake Villa). Popp and Fields are identified with the regular wing of the party, led by regular wing of the party.

Schmidt has also been active in promoting Liberty Lakes, a proposal to create a new village out of the unincorporated area of nearly all of Lake Villa Twp. and parts of Antioch, Grant, and Avon Twp. Ratch has been the leading opponent to that initiative.

According to Schmidt, Ratch gave her no reason for his decision, telling her simply that he would not reappoint her. Rumors immediately sprung up that there was a connection between either the county board race, the Liberty Lakes initiative, or both. Ratch, while noting that he does not comment on matters of personnel, said that neither was involved in his decision.

After being appointed five consecutive times without any complaints on competence or effectiveness, it is hard to believe that politics did not enter into this decision. Even if there was some other reason, it is certain that Ratch's political skills are not as sharp as they should be: he should have known that in this case, such a maneuver could only serve to strengthen Schmidt's hand.

There is nothing illegal or immoral in the decision not to reappoint. The mayor has the right and privilege, with the advice and consent of the village board, to fill appointive positions with people that he is comfortable with. But the folks who cast votes have never liked it when politics ends up costing someone their job. I don't like it either.

In some cases, people who work for some units of government are asked to agree that if they run for office, they will resign their jobs. I once was a joint food concession-holder with a park district and was asked to promise that I would not run for any office while I was connected with the district. I agreed. Here at Lakeland Newspapers, I cannot run for any major office (I can hold minor posts) and keep my job.

There is nothing wrong with that, when it is stated up front. If villages want to keep their employees from getting involved in running for elected office, they should come up with a policy up front so everyone knows.

Of course, in this situation, Ratch maintains that politics has nothing to do with it. I don't know, but I suspect the voters will react strongly to the appearance that politics is the reason.

THE COUNTY BOARD should begin the process of selecting a new chairman (or chairwoman) on Monday, May 4. Board members got more than enough signatures for a special call meeting and both Jim LaBelle (R-Zion), outgoing chairman, and Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville), vice-chairman and candidate for chairman, have agreed in principle to the meeting.

Among the leading candidates for chairman are Moore, Norm Geary (R-Grayslake) and Matt Miholic (R-North Chicago). Moore has a strong following among the regular Republicans, led by Bob Neal. Geary has a lot of support among independent Republicans. Either is going to have a difficult time mustering up more than 12 votes. I think that Miholic stands the best chance of putting enough votes together to make it.

Just Politics

and Recreation Dept., she was informed by Lindenhurst Mayor Bob Ratch that she would not be reappointed this year. Her last Republican chairman Bob Neal, also a county board member from Wadsworth.

Ratch is generally perceived as being loyal to the Central Plans All Night Prom

PADDOCK LAKE — Central High School's prom theme for 1987 is "A Night To Remember," and it very well may be.

Chip and Linda Nunemaker, parents of junior, Sean Yoder, with the cooperation of other families, are endeavoring to make this year's prom the best and safest ever.

The formal dinner and dance will be held Saturday, May 2 at Maplecrest Country Club in Somers, but it doesn't stop there.

Jerry Rasmussen, owner of the Brat Stop in Bristol, is allowing prom goers to use his establishment and facilities, free of charge, after hours, to continue the evening's festivities until 5 a.m.

Rasmussen is also donating all the pop and coffee for the evening. The Brat Stop's deejay booth, pool tables and various video games will serve as some of the early morning entertainment.

Food will be supplied and prepared by the parents involved.

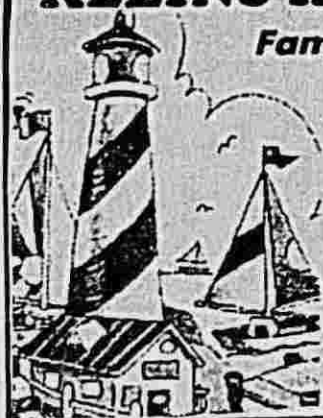

Rasmussen, a member of the Wisconsin Tavern League, says he appreciates the concern for the safety of area teenagers, and he is extending his hospitality to make Central's prom an extra special event.

This is the first attempt at having a "Prom 'til Dawn" in this area and is anticipated it will be a huge success.

All-night proms are commonplace in large cities on the west coast. It takes a lot of dedicated effort to provide several hours of entertainment for high school juniors and seniors, but the families of Central High's upper classmen and Rasmussen are making it all possible.
